World Rowing Position Statement

World Rowing strongly believes that gender equality, diversity and inclusion (GEDI) in the sport of rowing is fundamental in building a sustainable future for our sport.

World Rowing is committed to gender equality, diversity and inclusion and does not tolerate any form of discrimination. World Rowing seeks to ensure fairness and equality of opportunity, embraces differences and endeavours to make rowing a sport which is accessible to all, whether as a rower, coach, official, volunteer or member of staff, and regardless of race, colour, sex, gender identity, sexual orientation, disability, ethnic origin, language, religion or belief, nationality, age, marriage or civil partnership status, maternity or parental status, socio-economic status, skill level, political or other opinion.

World Rowing's aim is to provide an environment where everyone feels:

- Welcome
- Represented
- Included in decision making
- Able to participate

- Safe and free from discrimination, bullying, harassment and vilification.
